

State Use Tax Declared Illegal

Court Rules Law Does Not Apply Uniformly

Unanimous Decision
Says Legislation
Is Not Prohibited

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Illinois Supreme Court today declared unconstitutional the new state use tax on out-of-state purchases on grounds it does not apply uniformly to all users of personal property.

The 2-1-2 per cent use tax was designed and passed by the 1955 Legislature to prevent purchasers from evading the state sales tax by buying out of state.

However, the high court found the use tax unconstitutional because "it did not apply uniformly to all users of personal property," and because "the tax base is different than in the sales tax act and the use tax act applies to building contractors, (except under the sales tax), but not to other like service occupations."

The court's unanimous opinion, written by Justice Charles H. Davis, Rockford, "suggested, however, that despite the invalidity of this act, the constitution did not prohibit use tax legislation if it complied with constitutional limitations."

Paid Tax Under Protest

This appeared to open the way for the Legislature to try again to pass a use tax law that would win approval in the courts.

The challenge of the use tax was brought to the high court by John W. Turner Jr., who bought an automobile from an Indiana dealer and paid the use tax under protest.

Turner lost his suit challenging the tax in Cook County Circuit Court, and then appealed to the Supreme Court.

The use tax was also aimed at collecting a tax on the purchase or hiring of certain "services."

The court found the act invalid in this respect, also, pointing out that the law did not apply uniformly because certain exemptions were granted.

The court said "clearly, this lack of uniformity as to the class on which it (the use tax) operates prevents this tax from equalizing the tax burden on local retailers."

"We consider the provisions of this act so mutually connected and dependent, as conditions, considerations and compensations for each other, that the Legislature intended them as a whole, and the entire act must fall," the court said.

Cost of Living At New High

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government reported today that the cost of living rose one half of 1 per cent in October to a new record high.

The living cost index has been climbing for several months. It has set a new record in four of the last five months.

The latest rise brought automatic cost of living pay increases to 1,250,000 workers in automobiles, aircraft, farm machinery and some other industries. Most will get pay hikes of 2 cents an hour.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that its consumer price index rose to 117.7 per cent of average 1947-49 prices between September and October. The new level was 2.4 per cent higher than a year ago.

Bureau Commissioner Ewan Clague said he expected the index to rise still further. But he said it will not be "a panicky kind of thing—just firmness."

Whether the index levels off after the new year, he said, depends to a great extent on the economic effects of the Suez situation, which could cause higher prices for oil and perhaps other commodities.

Fear For Safety of Cardinal After New Attacks by Hungarian Communists

VIENNA (UP)—New attacks by Hungarian Communists on Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and the United States fomented new fears here today for the safety of the Roman Catholic prelate of Hungary.

Mindszenty, who was released by Hungarian freedom fighters after eight years in Communist captivity, took refuge in the U. S. Legation when Soviet tanks and troops launched their surprise offensive on Budapest Nov. 4.

Hungary remained in the paralyzing grip of a "total strike." There were few indications workers would respond to the mixture of threats and promises voiced by the Soviet-backed Janos Kadar regime. Kadar's promises, including broadening of the government to include non-Communists, all hinged on an end to the strike and restoration of "peace and order."

Newspaper Attacks Cardinal

The official Hungarian Communist government newspaper Nepszabadsag Sunday accused Mindszenty of being a tool of the "reactionary forces" in Hungary. It was the most bitter attack against the Cardinal since his release during the early stages of the anti-Communist revolt.

The newspaper described Mindszenty as a "typical representative of the Horthy Fascism" who "wanted to end Socialist construction and the people's power." The reference was to Adm. Nicholas Horthy, former regent of Hungary, who brought the country into World War II on the side of Nazi Germany.

A charge that the United States had advance knowledge of the anti-Communist rebellion in Hungary and in fact helped to foment it was made by Soviet puppet Premier Janos Kadar. Kadar said a statement by Allan W. Dulles, "head of American intelligence and brother of the secretary of state," indicated that "not only indignants participated in the uprisings, Kadar did not cite the alleged statement."

Sources here feared Mindszenty may be confined indefinitely within the U. S. legation in Budapest, which is protected by diplomatic immunity.

Iowa Girl Loses Out in Bid for Second Grand Championship

CHICAGO (UP)—Eighteen-year-old Janice Hullinger of Manly, Iowa, lost out today in what appeared to be a promising bid for her second grand championship at the International Livestock Exposition.

Miss Hullinger's "Dale" won the junior title Friday, but he was nudged off the path to the grand championship by Kenneth Eitel, 30, Greencastle, Mo., whose 1065 pound Aberdeen Angus, "Mr. Eitelmore," took the breed's summer yearling championship. The Iowa entry placed second.

Odds were that an Aberdeen Angus would become grand champion, for a member of the sleek, black breed has done so 29 times since the show was founded in 1900.

Eitel faced increasingly stiff competition until the grand champion is named Tuesday. But he is used to competing for such awards. His entries won the reserve grand championship at the

Eisenhower Flies to Georgia For Vacation

First Trip for Rest for President
Since August

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower flew to Augusta, Ga., today for a week or 10 days of golf and rest.

It was his first vacation since August.

Plans for the trip remained tentative until about an hour before the take-off because of the tense world situation. When 10 a. m. EST arrived with no new international complications in sight, Mr. Eisenhower gave the word and the White House announced the trip was definitely on.

He and Mrs. Eisenhower and a group of White House aides flew south in the government plane Columbine.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower would remain at Augusta for "a week or 10 days."

Mr. Eisenhower went to church services Sunday at the National Presbyterian Church, then returned to the White House for a conference on the situation in the Middle East and Central Europe.

The Chief Executive met with Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., just back from a conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in Key West, Fla.; Douglas MacArthur III, State Department counselor; Col. Andrew Goodpastor, White House staff secretary, and Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

After the conference, Hagerty issued this statement:

"The President would like to go to Augusta for his first rest since August. However, the final determination will not be made until this morning."

"If he goes to Augusta, the President, of course, will continue to follow closely developments in the Middle East and Europe as well as the discussions at the United Nations. White House communications to be set up at Augusta will keep the President in constant touch with government officials in Washington at all times."

Reveal Kidnap Threat Against Mrs. Stratton

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A reinforced state police guard placed around the executive mansion two weeks ago because of a kidnap threat against the wife of Gov. William G. Stratton was discontinued today.

State police disclosed the threat, contained in a letter to Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman, Sunday.

They also reported that the Chicago man who wrote the letter had been kept under constant surveillance and that he was in Springfield Wednesday on a Thanksgiving visit with relatives here.

The FBI office here said it had been advised of the situation from the start but had not been requested to take any action.

State Police Chief William Morris said the kidnap threat was contained in a letter received by Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman.

"Maybe Governor Stratton's wife would like to be kidnaped," the letter said.

"We know the identity of the writer," Morris said, "and he is under surveillance. I'm inclined to terminate our extra precautions soon because I believe we may have no cause for further apprehension or worry."

Identity of the suspected letter writer, however, was not revealed by authorities other than he was a Chicago man who had relatives in Springfield.

The letter writer has been interviewed, authorities said, but no formal charges have been placed against him.

The letter apparently arrived while Stratton and his wife, Shirley, were on vacation following Stratton's re-election, and therefore was forwarded to Chapman as acting governor in the absence of Stratton.

On receipt of the letter, Chapman notified authorities and the normal number of three guards at the executive mansion was boosted to 10.

Recover Bodies of 11 Firefighters Killed While Fighting Forest Blaze

RAMONA, Calif. (UP)—Rescue teams today found the bodies of 11 firefighters killed when they were trapped by sudden change of wind, the U. S. Forest Service reported.

The sheriff's office reported earlier "at least 16 persons" were killed when they were surrounded by flames in the Boulder Creek area of the Cleveland National Forest of San Diego County.

The Forest Service said rescue teams were removing the bodies from the area to the county morgue in nearby San Diego. It was not known if there were any survivors of the ill-fated crew which was ringed by flame while fighting a 25,000-acre brush and timber blaze.

The sheriff's office said 13 volunteer firefighters from Vieja Honor Camp and three Forest Service men were members of the trapped crew.

The Forest Service said the men were working in a steep remote section of fire line Sunday night when winds reaching 50 miles an hour shifted and trapped the crew.

The crew was part of 1,600 firefighters battling one of California's worst brush and timber fires on record. The fire still is raging out of control and already has blackened more than 30,000 acres and destroyed 12 homes.

The blaze broke out Saturday in the Cleveland National Forest. Tricky winds, which reached gusts of 100 miles an hour Sunday, have

Burglars Take

$274,000 from

Wm. Bullitt Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Detectives said today burglars, who stole $274,000 from the study of William Marshall Bullitt, were apparently well acquainted with the former U. S. solicitor general's rambling estate.

The thieves entered the house Sunday through an unlatched window, Jefferson County Det. Sgt. James Wyatt said, and opened the safe while the Bullitts slept.

Disregarding a button on a desk which would have opened a hidden panel, they forced the panel open and worked the combination to the safe.

Mrs. Bullitt told deputies that a maid discovered a window open Sunday morning and told her. Nothing other than the money appeared to be missing.

Bullitt, solicitor general under President William Howard Taft, had brought the money, in $10 to $1,000 bills, home from his law office a few days ago.

4 Killed When Truck Hits Cars At Cemetery

Auto Leaving Scene
Of Funeral Drives
Into Path of Truck

MARION, Ill.—Two traffic mishaps took the lives of five persons near Marion over the week-end.

A big tractor-trailer rammed into an automobile leaving a cemetery here Saturday afternoon, toppling the truck's heavily loaded trailer onto another car. All four occupants of the automobiles were killed. Two were from near Thompsonville and two from near Marion.

Sunday a 37-year-old Racine, Wis., man, Calvin Carter, was fatally injured when a car driven by Lawrence Hatchell, 26, of Colp, went out of control on an icy bridge near Marion and hit a tree.

Dead in the Saturday afternoon tragedy were:

Roy Perry, 63, of Thompsonville Route 2 and his wife, Hattie, 64; Paul Edwards, 44, Marion Route 1 and his mother, Alice, 71.

Trucker Injured

The driver of the tractor-trailer was identified as Pete Dugger, of Texarkana, Tex. He was in Marion Veterans Administration Hospital in "a bad state of shock and unable to talk," according to hospital authorities.

Marion Police Chief Charles Edwards gave this version of the accident:

"Mr. and Mrs. Perry were leaving Maplewood Cemetery on Highway 37 just outside the Monroe City limits, where Perry's sister, Miss Clara Perry, of Thompsonville, had just been buried."

"As the Perry auto pulled onto the highway, it was driven directly into the path of the tractor-trailer. The impact of the crash caused the big vehicle to jackknife, and as the trailer toppled, the north-bound Edwards car was caught under it."

"There wasn't any part of that car more than 12 or 15 inches high," the chief said, and added:

"In my eleven years of law work, I've never seen a wreck in which worse damage was done."

Chief Edwards said both automobiles were Plymouths, but said they were so badly smashed that model identification was impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were both killed instantly. Mrs. Perry died shortly after she was taken

B52s Demonstrate in Record Flight They Could Strike Deep Into Russia

WASHINGTON (UP)—A group of B52 jet bombers have demonstrated with record-breaking, non-stop flights of up to 16,000 miles that they could strike deep within Russia from bases in this country and return.

The Air Force put on the demonstration over the weekend, keeping eight of the giant jet bombers aloft for periods ranging from 26 to 31 hours. The flights, covering from 13,500 to 16,000 miles, were the longest ever made by the planes that will carry the H-bomb if it ever has to be used.

The Air Force called the flights a "routine training mission." But it went out of its way to publicize them even though it usually keeps flights of the Strategic Air Command bombers highly secret.

The demonstration obviously was a warning to Russia of the intercontinental striking power of the B52. The flights were more than twice the approximate 5,000-mile distance from U. S. air bases to the Soviet Union.

The B52s, which have a range of 6,000 miles, were refueled in the air by tanker planes. The Air Force would not say how many times.

During the demonstration, one group of four B52s took off from Loring Air Force Base in Maine and another from Castle Air Force Base in California. Both circled the northern United States and Canada carrying out simulated bombing attacks, and all but two returned to their home bases.

Test New Plan

Those two landed at Friendship Airport in Baltimore, testing a new Air Force plan to use civilian airports as dispersal points for its planes in case of enemy attack.

The pilots of these two B52s received their instructions to land at Baltimore during their flight and without advance notice. It was the first time a plane the size of the 140-ton, eight-jet B52 had landed here.

The runways proved long enough even though the planes had to use their parachute arresting gear to help bring them to a quick-enough stop.

The bombers flew at altitudes of above 35,000 feet at average speeds of 500 miles per hour.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Be ye kind to one another. — Ephesians 4:32. Christ gave a new commandment that ye love one another. Some imagine it is quite proper to hate those who differ from us in politics or religion. Political campaigns are often filled with vituperation and half-truths or falsehoods.

Something New In History

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT Though it will take considerable time for the world to learn how effective the United Nations police force will be in Egypt, the mere fact of its creation may prove one of the big milestones of 1956.

The charter of the U. N. envisioned such a force. But heretofore the opposition to its establishment has been compelling. This one great chance the U. N. seemed to have to show some teeth was spurned by its members.

To be sure, upon the outbreak of the Korean War a "United Nations Command" was set up to defend South Korea against Communist aggression. But everyone understood this was basically an American force, and that we had sought U. N. sanction for a defense we would surely have made anyhow.

This time it is different. The police force is truly the product of the whole U. N., with no units of the big powers taking part. Its goal is not strictly the defense of any single nation against another, but the patrolling of a troubled area to keep a number of belligerents apart and in a state of restored peace.

Certainly there is something remarkable, something utterly new in the world, in the fact that a signal from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, soldiers began a climbing into battle dress in such widely scattered lands as Colombia, India, Yugoslavia and Denmark.

With still other nations assisting in the work of transport, these men were moved first to a staging area in Italy and at last to Egypt itself.

These disparate units today work side by side in the common enterprise of trying to hold the peace.

In this instance, of course, the U. N. has the backing of all the great powers even though they are not represented in the police force. The real test would come if any of the Big Four did not subscribe to it and decided to defy it.

For a time it looked as if Russia, for all its acceptance of the idea, might do just that by sending in "volunteers" on the Egyptian side. But this threat evident-

Unspendable Foreign Money Is Piling Up in U. S. Coffers

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Disclosure at long last that members of 10 U. S. Senate committees spent $168,000 of U. S. government counterpart funds for travel abroad last year puts the finger on U. S. Treasury's tremendous operations in foreign currencies.

For the fiscal year ended last June 30 they amounted to over a billion dollars. This is more than it took to run the whole U. S. government for a year prior to World War I.

Foreign funds which the U. S. Treasury now acquires are in more than 50 different currencies from every important country in the world, outside the Iron Curtain. Bookkeeping and auditing alone are pretty involved.

Foreign currencies are collected and disbursed by more than 100 State Department finance officers and by Army, Navy and Air Force finance officers wherever there are U. S. armed forces and military assistance groups stationed abroad.

The largest single source of foreign funds today is from the sale of U. S. farm surpluses abroad for money of the purchasing countries. This accounted for more than 660 million dollars' worth of the foreign currencies collected by the U. S. last year.

When the Marshall Plan and subsequent foreign aid programs were at peak operation, they provided the principal sources of foreign funds.

Undoubtedly our declaration that we would resist such action — through the U. N. — had powerful effect. But the U. N.'s own moral stature had heavy impact as well.

The Soviet Union, like a good many others at this time, does not wish to challenge so boldly and flagrantly the authority of the world's peace agency.

Much of this experiment is still to be run. But the beginnings are good. The force is in being, and on the scene. That is an advance that may be writ large in the history books.

Foreign money. The deal was that the U. S. gave aid to foreign countries. They paid for the aid with their own money because they didn't have dollars. The foreign monies collected by the U. S. were then spent by the American government for further recovery and reconstruction projects within the foreign countries.

These were the famous "counterpart funds" that Congress took a cut of to provide for travel expenses of "investigating committees" when they traveled abroad.

All a congressman has to do when he arrives at a foreign capital is to ask the U. S. embassy disbursing officer for local currency to pay for his travel. He signs a receipt for it, and then accounts for his expenses only to his committee chairman.

Up to the time when Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) made public first figures on last year's expenditures by Senate committees, it has been impossible to get a line on how much they were spending.

There still is no breakdown by individual congressmen — who got how much in which country and what he spent it for — although this is very definitely public business.

THE TREASURY's real problem is how to get rid of these foreign currencies, once they are collected. They can't be exchanged for dollars and there aren't enough things the U. S. wants to buy. Congress has, however, passed over 30 laws authorizing for what purposes foreign funds can be spent.

These are the 10 principal authorized uses:

To pay U. S. government bills abroad. To purchase goods and services in friendly countries. To develop new markets for U. S. products. To promote U. S. trade fairs. To purchase strategic materials for U. S. stockpiles. To purchase military equipment for mutual security. To make loans for economic development. To finance Fulbright grants for student exchanges. To finance informational and cultural exchanges. To finance translation and publication of U. S. books abroad, up to five million dollars a year. None of these expenditures may be made unless Congress has previously made direct appropriations in U. S. dollars to government agencies operating abroad and for specific purposes.

Where such authorization has been made, the government agencies simply buy the foreign currencies they need from the U. S. Treasury, paying with the dollars appropriated by Congress.

LAST YEAR the Treasury sold 240 million dollars' worth of its foreign funds to U. S. government agencies in this manner. But 445 million dollars' worth of foreign currencies were requisitioned for government expenditures, without reimbursement to the Treasury. This left a balance of 355 million dollars' worth of 50 foreign currencies on hand as of July 1. This is an increase from the 165-million-dollar balance of 1955.

What this points up is that when the Department of Agriculture boasts it has sold so many hundred million dollars' worth of U. S. farm surpluses abroad, it hasn't sold them for dollars. It has sold a large part of them for foreign currencies that can't be exchanged for dollars and can't even be spent.

The oil industry of the United States employs 2,000,000 men and women.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

Campfires are more warming to the soul than to the body. Physically we find ourselves overheated on one side and cold on the other. Materially, campfires do not furnish uniform heat and light.

However, there is something friendly about a campfire. It seems to be almost human. It is alive in a way. It fluctuates from moment to moment. The flickering flames give light for the soul to see things which are unobserved in broad daylight.

In the blackness of the night a campfire creates a circle of warmth and light. Fears of the unseen are driven away and confidence envelops those within the circle of light.

Somehow the warmth of the campfire creates an atmosphere for introspection, devotion, contact with God, and fellowship with the higher side of people.

God is like a campfire in His being a light unto our feet and warmth unto our souls. In the darkness of our despair He creates a circle of light and warmth and friendship which removes fears. He helps us to repent our sins, and to determine constructive ways of living.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body. To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge. Only a bulk laxative can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to recreate a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAD, the new laxative discovery relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAD neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAD exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Govan Selected For Washington Semester Program

James L. Govan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Govan, 806 West Pine street, has recently been selected to represent Wabash College at Crawfordsville, Ind., in the Washington Semester program.

He was one of three Wabash juniors picked by the Political Science department on the basis of academic achievement and demonstrated interest in government problems.

Govan is a 1954 graduate of Harrisburg Township high school.

The purpose of the Washington Semester program is to give undergraduates a more realistic picture of national and international affairs. The curriculum of the men on this program consists of six to twelve course credit-hours plus a three credit-hour research paper on some field of legislation or administration.

Seminars and personal interviews with various government officials, as well as extensive use of the Library of Congress, are required for the completion of this paper.

Sugar and Cotton Bowls Both After Tennessee; Iowa is Official Entry in Rose Bowl

By United Press

A tug-of-war was developing today between officials of the Sugar Bowl and the Cotton Bowl — both would like to entice Tennessee to their annual New Year's Day carnivals.

The Sugar Bowl selection committee has indicated it would like to pair Tennessee and Georgia Tech in a rematch of their regular-season game, which the Vols won, 6-0. However, no official announcement is expected until both teams conclude their Southeastern Conference schedules next Saturday.

Tennessee is a heavy favorite to wrap up its first undisputed SEC title in 16 years and a perfect 10-0 record against Vanderbilt, while Georgia Tech (8-1) closes out its regular season against Georgia.

Cotton Bowl officials, it was learned, also are interested in matching Tennessee against Texas as Christian, which clinched the Southwest Conference berth last Saturday via a 20-17 triumph over Rice. Navy is a strong second choice for the visiting bid if it gets by Army in their service classic next weekend, while Georgia Tech, Syracuse and Pitt also are being considered.

Clemson, ACC Champ
Colorado's opponent in the Orange Bowl also is not expected until next weekend when the Atlantic Coast Conference will select its official representative. Clemson, the ACC champion, is the leading choice for the open berth, but Duke and South Carolina also are in the running.

Iowa was officially designated as the Big Ten Conference's entry in the Rose Bowl last Saturday night, while Oregon State is expected to receive the official blessing of the Pacific Coast Conference members for the other berth via a telegraphic vote today.

Both berths remained open for the Gator Bowl, with unbeaten Wyoming heading the list of candidates that also includes Duke, Syracuse, Pittsburgh and South Carolina.

In other weekend bowl developments, George Washington and Texas Western were named opponents for the Sun Bowl, Mississippi Southern emerged as West Texas State's rival in the Tangerine Bowl, and Compton College was selected as the Western representative for the Junior Rose Bowl game.

Iowa Whips Irish
Iowa warmed up for its Rose Bowl appearance by whipping Notre Dame, 48-8; Georgia Tech rambled to a 28-0 victory over Florida, and Johnny Majors once again paced Tennessee to a comeback 20-7 triumph over Kentucky.

Pittsburgh, knowing it had to win "big" to clinch a bowl berth, had to settle for a 7-7 tie with Penn State, while Duke rolled to a 21-6 victory over North Carolina and Baylor enhanced its bowl chances by blanking Southern Methodist, 26-0.

Top-ranked Oklahoma rolled up 656 yards in the air and on the ground in making Nebraska its 39th straight victim, 54-6, and Clemson clinched its first ACC crown in edging Virginia, 7-0.

The United Press ratings, based on the judgment of top coaches in the state who have an opportunity to see many teams in action week after week have gained wide respect in the past several years, among newspaper and radio editors, coaches, players and fans.

The coaches board will make its first ratings after Friday night games of Nov. 30. The ratings will be compiled in the United Press bureau here and will be released each week for Tuesday afternoon newspapers.

The ratings will be based on 15 points for a first place vote, 14 for second and so on.

The coaches board is made up, principally of coaches who took their teams to the "Sweet Sixteen" or super-sectional round of last season's state tournament.

Members of the 15-man board this season will include Alex Saundaras, former coach of the state champion Rockford West Warriors, who is now in business in Rockford; Joe Luocco, of runner-up Edwardsville; Dawson (Duster) Peoria Central; Merrill (Duster) Thomas, Pinckneyville; Harry Kinnert, Oak Park; Bert Moore, Chicago Heights (Blom); George Lubell West Frankfort; Jim Belz, Effingham St. Anthony; Carlos Van Auren, Rantoul; John Thiel, Galesburg; Arlyn Lober, Springfield Lanhier; and Chuck Lauer, of Winnetka New Trier.

Don Sullivan, of La Salle-Peru, who was on the board last season as coach of Peoria Spalding's 1954-55 state tournament team, will serve again this year in place of Gene Vance, who has left LaSalle and is no longer coaching.

Howard Dewell, who replaced George Latham at Quincy, and Al Sherline who took over for Bob Lyons at Taylorville, complete the board membership.

Petition to Declare GAW Payments Illegal Rejected

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The Illinois Supreme Court today turned down a petition that so-called guaranteed annual wage payments be declared illegal in Illinois, but declared a ruling on the key legal question involved in GAW plans.

The court did not rule on whether employer-paid GAW payments constitute wages and therefore make a worker ineligible for state unemployment compensation benefits, which cannot be legally paid to a person who is earning wages. Barco Manufacturing Co., Waukegan, and Robert F. Gordon L., and George R. Grubb Jr., of Grubb and Peterson, a Champaign advertising firm, had filed in Sangamon County Circuit Court seeking an injunction to bar state unemployment compensation payments to workers receiving GAW payments.

They charged the private employer-paid benefits constitute wages and that recipients were therefore ineligible for state unemployment compensation. They argued that payment of state unemployment compensation in such cases would increase their unemployment compensation tax rates.

The high court agreed with the Circuit Court that the firms had failed to prove this argument and said "payment of supplemental benefits do the petitioners no harm, legal or actual. They do not serve to increase one iota, the voluntary contributions paid by them."

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle ruled earlier this year that the GAW contracts were legal.

Bradley Man Drowns in Crab Orchard Lake

MARION, Ill. (U.P.)—Rescue teams from Marion, Herrin, West Frankfort, Carverville and Carbondale today dragged Crab Orchard lake for Gilbert Snyder, 26, of Bradley, Ill., who drowned when he jumped into the water to try to recover a boat that had broken loose from its mooring.

Snyder, a former Herrin man, and Don Lindard of Bradley were duck hunting on an island in the lake known as Carverville island and Peach island, near the Crab Orchard Boat and Yacht club.

Lindard said that when their boat broke loose Snyder pulled off his clothing and jumped into the lake after it. He soon disappeared from view.

Refuse to Reverse Touhy Conviction

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The Illinois Supreme Court today refused to reverse a conviction and 199-year sentence given gangster Roger Touhy for aiding a fellow prisoner at Stateville to escape.

The Prohibition Era gangster, already in prison for a 99-year term for the 1932 kidnapping of Jake (The Barber) Fanning, was sentenced to another 199 years as the result of a spectacular prison break by six convicts in October, 1943.

Roof of Cave Falls In, Two Boys Killed

JACKSON, La. (U.P.)—Two teenage boys were killed and another slightly injured Sunday when the roof of a small cave in which they were playing fell in.

Soviets Block Allied Train from Berlin to the West

BERLIN (U.P.)—The Soviets have blocked passage of a Western Allied train from Berlin to the West for the first time since the Berlin blockade was lifted, a British spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the Soviets at the East-West German border refused to allow the British military train to enter West Germany and sent it back 110 miles to Berlin.

The train was refused passage because of "new documentation procedures," the spokesman said.

Earlier, an American spokesman said the American military train traveling to Berlin from West Germany was held up by the Soviets today at the East-West border for two hours before it was allowed to pass.

It was such interference with Western Allied military trains that led to the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin.

Gov't Expected To Postpone Excise Tax Reductions

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—A treasury spokesman said today it apparently will be necessary to postpone automatic tax reductions on cigarettes, beer, automobiles and certain other items for another year.

Dan T. Smith, special assistant to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, made the statement on state excise taxes.

Under present law some excise taxes are scheduled to drop automatically on April 1. The cigarette tax would be cut by 1 cent a pack and the tax on beer would go down $1 a barrel. The 10 per cent tax on new automobiles would drop to 7 per cent and reductions also are scheduled for wine, liquor, trucks, buses and automotive equipment.

The reductions, if allowed to become effective, would cost the government close to 900 million dollars a year in revenue. Congress, at the President's request, has been extending the higher tax rates for several years on a year-to-year basis.

Recover Bodies of Man, Woman From Fire Debris

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The charred bodies of a man and woman have been recovered from the debris of a two-story frame apartment building that burned to the ground early Sunday.

The victims were Albert Whitaker, 46, and Geraldine Kitchens, 35. Authorities said their bodies were found on the floor in front of windows where they had apparently tried to escape the fire.

Whitaker was identified by his divorced wife, Louise, 45, and his son, William, 22. Miss Kitchens, a former beauty shop owner, was identified by a diploma from the Selan School of Beauty Culture.

Five Killed in Three-Car Crash

NORTONVILLE, Ky. (U.P.)—Five persons were killed and two others were injured near here Sunday in a three-car collision on U. S. 41.

The dead in one car were identified as Jerome Lurie, 51, Oak Park, Ill., and his mother, Mrs. Tillie Lurie, 76, Miami Beach, Fla. Mrs. Lurie was a sister of the late Rep. Adolf Sabath of Illinois and the late Judge Joseph Sabath of Chicago.

Also killed were John Walter Smith, 28, Bridgeport, Ala., and his niece and nephew, Janice Lee Smith, 2, and George Roger Smith, 3, both of Chattanooga, Tenn.

State police identified the injured as the parents of the two children, George N. Smith, 24, and his wife, Anna, 26, Chattanooga.

Navy Planes Land 10 More Seabees at Operation Deepfreeze

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (U.P.)—The South Pole's population jumped to 19 persons today when two U. S. Navy Dakota planes landed 10 Seabees there to thaw out stalled "Operation Deepfreeze."

The 10 newcomers joined eight other Seabees and an Air Force sergeant to help build a polar base where scientists will spend the winter as part of the worldwide scientific research program of the International Geophysical Year.

The Pole's population, which doubled today, grew by "leaps" and bounds Sunday when Air Force T.Sgt. Richard J. Patton of St. Louis jumped in by parachute.

The Air Force sent Patton in to find out why release catches on cargo parachutes were letting go before they hit the ground, scattering several tons of supplies and equipment over 8 miles of the snow-covered icecap.

Patton's leap gave him the distinction of being the first person to make a parachute jump at either the South or North Pole.

Run by Fire Department

The fire department made a run about 6:45 a. m. today to the home of Asa Lee Jackson, 202 North Lewis street, where soot in the flue was burning. There was no damage.

Boy Sends Smoke Signals to Firemen

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U.P.)—Six-year-old Wa-hurn Mace looked under his bed for Indians Saturday night and accidentally wound up sending smoke signals to firemen.

A candle he used in his search set the bed afire. Firemen quickly extinguished the flames. The boy was unhurt.

County IAA Insurance Force Receives Honors

The Illinois Agricultural Association Insurance Service recently announced the agencies and agents who achieved state-wide recognition in the 1956 agency year.

Among the agencies honored was the Saline county agency with the highest balanced production in the state. The agency produced $1,031,241 of paid life insurance during the year representing 395.1 per cent of its annual goal. The county also placed in force 369 auto and FCL policies and $77,104 in fire premium in force in the 1956 agency year.

Agency Manager James Henderson won a membership on the 1956 Illinois All-American team. The team is composed of all members of the agency force whose personal paid life production is $500,000 or more. In addition, the top life per cent of goal agency and top agency of life volume also qualifies as members of the team.

The Saline county agency qualified as the top agency in life per cent of goal for the year.

James Henderson together with other team members will be recognized by Farm Bureau insurance companies throughout the nation at this year's American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting at Miami Beach, Fla. Henderson also won the presidency of the Agency Managers club by directing his agency to the top per cent of goal position in the state. He is one of six top members of the 1956 Life Honor Roll, writing $25,000 or more for 12 months.

Henderson is one of ten agency managers whose names will be engraved on the 1956 Insurance Service plaque. The plaque will hang in the Home Office of Insurance Service and will list the ten top agency managers and ten top special agents in balanced production in the state during the 1956 agency year.

Special Agent Gene Williams of the Saline agency also won honors in the 1956 Honor Roll. He wrote a minimum of $25,000 of life insurance for nine months. He is one of ten special agents in the state to have his name engraved on the 1956 Insurance Service plaque as well as being top special agent in District IV.

The other member of the Saline county agency force is Lesley O. Starnes who was sixth in rank for Special Agents of District IV despite the fact that he was only with the force seven months.

Five Dead in Week End Accidents Near Marion

to Marion Memorial Hospital, according to Edwards.

Hard to Believe

"It's hard to believe," Chief Edwards told a reporter after he returned from the wreck scene following three hours' work trying to clear the highway for traffic.

"Every one of the victims was badly torn up. I don't believe there could have been a whole bone left in either body in the car the trailer smashed, it was pushed down so flat. You can imagine what it was like."

Chief Edwards said the trailer was loaded with sacked dried beans. He estimated the load at between 20,000 and 30,000 pounds. "We had to unload the beans before four wreckers could turn the trailer upright," he said.

Traffic Held Up

Traffic on busy Highway 37, a straight route south from Chicago, was held up for several hours following the crash.

Edwards said he and other officers were relieved from the job of directing traffic in the bitter cold by a fresh detachment of Illinois State Policemen.

"We led the funeral procession out to the cemetery at 3:30 p. m., and returned to the station. No sooner had we got back than we were called to the wreck scene. We immediately started radioing for assistance."

He said traffic was moving at 6:30 p. m., but slowly, and estimated it was at least a half hour before the normal flow of traffic was resumed.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Perry and that of Mrs. Edwards were taken to Wilson-Frick funeral home here. Mr. Edwards' was taken to Mitchell funeral home.

A double funeral service for Mr. and Mrs. Perry will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at County Line Baptist church in Franklin county. Mrs. Perry will be buried in the church cemetery and Mr. Perry's burial will be in No. 8 cemetery west of Corinth.

Double funeral services will also be held for Paul Edwards and his mother, Mrs. Alice Edwards, Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at Johnston City First Christian church. Burial will be in Becker cemetery near Johnston City.

Sight Two Objects in Sky

HOT SPRINGS, S. D. (U.P.)—Two more unidentified objects sighted in the skies over South Dakota brought back reports of "flying saucers" today.

A group of Hot Springs residents spotted one near here Sunday at the same time that a jet interceptor from Ellsworth Air Force Base reportedly registered an unidentified "blip" on its radar screen.

Spokesmen for the Air Force, however, have not confirmed the report.

Earlier Sunday, two men in the South Dakota state motor patrol told of spotting a "salad bowl" shaped object swaying back and forth across a road near Pierre, S. D., about 300 miles east of here.

Donald Kelm and Jack Peters said the floating object was deep red in color, and that it was between 50 and 100 feet off the ground. There was no noise, Peters said.

Sheriff Allen Coates and his son, Robert, said the Hot Springs object was brilliantly illuminated and bobbed up and down in the sky. Young Coates described it as flashing red, green and yellow.

Fear Russia May Prod Syria Into New Conflict

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The United States fears that Syria, using weapons it got from the Communists, may cause a new armed conflict in the Middle East.

Officials doubt that Syria would be successful in such a venture. But they said Russia, which wants to continue stirring up trouble in the Middle East, might goad Syria into starting an incident along its border with Israel that could spread into a larger conflict.

The United States has evidence that Syria has been receiving large amounts of Communist arms for "a considerable period of time."

French sources have estimated that Syria gets about two shiploads of Communist arms a week, but American officials believe this estimate high.

U. S. officials are watching for any signs that Syria might go too far and provoke Israel into a new "preventive action" on the pattern followed against Egypt at the end of October.

Three Killed in Gas Explosions

By United Press

Gas explosions jarred two communities in Colorado and New Mexico Sunday. Three persons were killed and six others were hospitalized with injuries.

One blast rocked a city block in Springer, a northern New Mexico town of 1,000, killing two persons. Five others were hospitalized with injuries and four were less seriously hurt.

An explosion in a suburban area just southeast of Denver killed a natural gas pipeline worker and injured his co-worker seriously. It occurred when a valve blew off a 20-inch gas line under repair.

Police Chief Virgil Carter said state officials would investigate the Springer explosion, but he was sure it was caused by a gas leak in an underground butane tank. The explosion erupted into Joe Stewart's "corner" drug store and the Stockman's cafe, and also leveled two nearby unoccupied business buildings.

1,900 Delegates Open National Four-H Congress

CHICAGO (U.P.)—More than 1,900 4-H Club delegates, leaders and guests kicked off the four-day program of the 35th National 4-H Club Congress at a breakfast today.

The congress, held in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition, will run through Thursday.

The breakfast, sponsored by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., honored the 1956 winners of the National 4-H Club soil and water conservation program.

They are W. Arden Colette, 18, Longmont, Colo.; Darrell Gibbs,

18, Moultrie, Ia.; Doran L. Bellman, 18, Pulaski, Iowa; David Bradway, 16, Monson, Mass.; Andrew Joe Reinert, 18, Fairmont, Okla.; Fred Brown, 16, Baxter, Tenn.; Roger Payne, 20, Barboursville, Va., and Roland D. Christianson, 20, Viroqua, Wis.

The eight national winners received $300 college scholarships.

Some 1,400 4-H Club delegates heard Sunday that they should not sell themselves short because "opportunities are unlimited."

Dr. Kenneth Hildebrand, minister of Chicago's non-denominational Central Church, addressed a special service in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

"Each of us has something to give to this world," he said. "We have weaknesses, but we have strengths and possibilities, too. We must get ourselves in perspective. You are you plus your potentials."

Light Earthquake In St. Louis Area

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A light earthquake shook the St. Louis area Sunday night, rattling windows and dishes.

Most reports of the shock came from the west end of St. Louis. But it also was felt as far away as Sikeston and St. Charles, Mo., and Alton, Ill.

Newspaper and police switchboards were swamped with calls from persons who believed there had been an explosion.

Time of the quake was 10:15 p.m. CST.

Dr. Ross R. Heinrich, geophysics professor at St. Louis University, said such mild shocks were not unusual in Missouri, and average about three a year.

There are scores of Black lakes, 35 Cranberry lakes, 31 Crooked lakes, 262 Mud lakes, 32 Pine lakes and 27 Silver lakes listed in Michigan.

Agriculture Department Predicts Farm Costs Will Increase Next Year

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department said today the cost of operating a farm and producing a crop next year will average "somewhat higher" than in 1956.

The department, in its publication, "The Farm Cost Situation," gave this outlook for 1957:

"Farm property taxes per acre, interest rates, farm wage rates, and prices paid for farm machinery, motor vehicles, and motor supplies are expected to be moderately higher.

"Farm real estate values, and prices paid for building and fencing materials, farm supplies, feed, feeder livestock, and seed are expected to be about the same or slightly higher.

"The price of fertilizer is expected to average slightly lower per ton of plant nutrients but slightly higher per ton of gross weight."

The department said as of mid-October this year, the farm cost index was 3 per cent higher than last year. The index included interest, taxes and wage rates.

Prices for all items comprising the index, except fertilizer, feeder livestock and seed, have increased since a year ago, and most of the increases have taken place recently, the department said.

Next year, the department said, the rural labor supply and farm wage rates will continue to be influenced by non-farm employment opportunities. The expanded highway construction program, for example, may decrease the labor supply for farms.

The cost of farm machinery is expected to rise slightly, the department said. Prices of feed, feeder livestock, and seed will tend to fluctuate with prices of farm products in general, the department said.

The department predicted a continued rise in farm real estate prices. It said the trend toward larger but fewer farms will go on.

Heavy Snow Warnings in Eastern Area

By United Press
Heavy snow warnings were posted early today for eastern New York and much of New England as two separate storms began moving through the northern one-third of the nation.

Meanwhile, a state of emergency was ended at midnight in the Erie, Pa., area. The emergency was declared after a Thanksgiving Day storm dropped 2 to 3 feet of snow along a 150-mile stretch of Lake Erie's southern shore.

Light amounts of snow and rain were deposited early today from the upper and middle Mississippi valleys through the Ohio Valley and the Great Lakes to New England. Both rainfall and snow accumulations were quite light.

A storm in southern Ohio spread light snow through the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and much of the Mississippi Valley, with some rain in Tennessee.

Pellston, Mich., reported 2 inches of new snow for a ground accumulation of 8 inches, and both South Bend, Ind., and Detroit reported 1 inch of new snow.

The second storm—which was to breed the heavy snow accumulations along the East Coast—spread rain early in the morning along the Atlantic Coast north of Philadelphia to southern New England and snow into eastern New York and western New England.

Accumulations, weathermen said would probably be around 6 inches in the New York and New England snow areas.

Driving conditions were hazardous over most of the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and parts of the Mississippi Valley.

Moscow, Egypt Attack U. S. Stand on Suez Canal; Angry Words by Syria, Iraq

LONDON (UP)—Moscow joined Egypt today in attacking the United States' stand on the Suez Canal dispute.

The canal, however, was not the only center of discord in the troubled Middle East. Syria and Iraq, both allied with Egypt in the canal dispute, exchanged angry words among themselves over the weekend.

Syria accused Iraq of "collusion" with Israel against her and of supplying arms in would-be revolutionaries in Syria.

There were predictions that Syria, with arms supplied by Russia, would move new forces into tiny, neighboring Jordan to forestall a similar move by Iraq.

The United States found itself the man-in-the-middle in the Suez Canal dispute, under verbal attack by Moscow and Cairo and criticized by British Conservatives, its normal allies in Britain.

Says U. S. Agreed to "Deal"
Conservative Members of Parliament F. A. Burton suggested in a speech that with the "unwitting cooperation of America," United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld had made a deal with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser which would throw "not only the British but Western interests down the canal."

Radio Moscow charged that the United States is "conniving" to keep the Anglo-French forces in Egypt.

It cited as proof U. S. support of a U. N. resolution which omitted mention of "grave concern" that Britain, France and Israel still maintained their forces in Egypt.

Meanwhile, Israel reported that Arab "Fedayeen" night raiders had blown up a car near Tel Aviv early today, injuring one person, and that a vehicle had been blown up by a land mine. In Cairo, the Middle East news agency reported that an Egyptian reconnaissance patrol penetrated about 33 miles into Sinai Desert positions still held by "Zionist gangs."

Also in Cairo it was reported Egypt will reject an American proposal to start clearing the Suez Canal while British and French troops are withdrawing from Port Said.

Youngest signer of the U. S. Constitution was 26-year-old Jonathan Dayton.

Will you really enjoy your retirement... or barely scrape along?

You have probably given a lot of thought to how you would like to spend your time after retirement... maybe you have even figured how much income you would need to do the things you want.

Is the amount you can presently count on enough? Think how much peace of mind an extra $100 a month would contribute!

The question is: "Where is this extra $100 coming from?" Maybe you expect to save it. If so, it would take $30,000, invested safely at 4%, to provide a gross income of $100 monthly. Few people have the means to do this.

However, there is a simple, safe and sure way of providing for extra retirement income—a Metropolitan Retirement Program. This also provides Life insurance protection for your family in case something should happen to you before retirement. The cash and loan values in the policy can be used as nest eggs in the event of unforeseen contingencies.

Your Metropolitan Representative will show you how, step by step, you can provide for financial security during your retirement years. He will estimate the amount of retirement income Social Security will contribute, and help you review the possible income from your present policies in the light of your future retirement plans and needs. You might also ask him about a Family Income rider to give added protection to your family.

Any Metropolitan Representative will welcome this chance to show that... Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street... as close as your phone

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Bruhn's outlaw pack, strained by inner dissension, holes up in Bitter, Wyo., mudbound by a chinook thaw. The outlaws seize all the guns and ammunition, including the stock at the Frasin store. Tommy Rikes, the bartender, has been killed and when Vivian McLearn hears of it, she insists on going to see Ava, Tommy's widow. Dan Murdoch, foreman of the Star ranch, accompanies her. At Ava's house is Tex Darrow, one of the outlaws, who is recognized by Vivian. Tex calls her "Belle," and says "It's been a long time since Wichita."

Dan's head jerked up as he started to make a swift denial. "You'll never know." "But I do," Pace purred and lifted his glass in a mock salute. "It'll be fur to kill you someday." Hal Crane came in. He stood just within the room and glanced quickly at each of the outlaws. None of them spoke, only looked briefly at him. Crane saw Dan behind the bar and he nodded curtly and came forward. Denver looked up, then back at his glass. "Help yourself, Hal," Dan said. He nodded toward the bowl of coins. "And pay the piper there." (To Be Continued)

Vivian looked down at Tex's hand and then up into his face. Some of her color had returned and now her lips had set, giving her a hard look that Dan had never seen before. Her eyes met Tex's in a direct challenge.

"I've forgotten Wichita and all concerned with it." "A hard thing to do," Tex said and rubbed the back of his fingers along his jaw, considering her, one brow lifted. "Forgetting ain't a one-person thing, Belle." "You waste your time," she said sharply. "How is Ava?" "Step right in. She's a mite drunk." "Your doing, Tex?" "Belle, I never poured a slug of whisky down nobody's throat. I brought the bottle, but she did the drinking." Vivian stepped around Tex to enter. Dan started to follow but Tex moved in front of him and now his black eyes were hard and mean.

"You ain't got an invite friend. Get on about your business." Vivian turned, just within the doorway. "It's all right, Dan. I want no trouble on my account." Her scornful eyes cut at the outlaw. "Tex will be no bother. He never was."

Dan was surprised that the bar was open. Tommy lay dead in the back room of Larry's barber-shop next door and Ava was home. The outlaws themselves had opened it and anger again rolled in Dan's chest. What was this but looting, despite Bruhn's promise? Denver, at the far end of the bar, saw him first. The bearded outlaw cuffed his hat back and grinned through his whiskers. "Now if there ain't a citizen of this town come to have a drink with us. Step right up and help yourself."

Dan went behind the bar. Pace Odum and Juarez Smith idly watched, glasses before them. Dan bent to look under the bar, found a small bowl with a crack in its side. He placed it on the bar. Pace looked at it, then up at Dan, openly puzzled. Juarez wiped a dark hand across his slack lips but said nothing. Dan paid no attention to either, but selected a bottle from the back bar, poured his drink. Then he fished in his pocket, pulled out a coin. He held it poised over the bowl, then dropped it. The sound was loud and cheery in the silent room. Pace remained unmoving, expression inscrutable. "The drinks are on the house, I'd say." "On the house?" Dan asked, "or on a dead man or a widow wondering what's going to become of her? Either way, I can't cheat 'em."

Jack Bruhn watched from the far table, started to reach for his drink and drew back his hand. Denver lost his grin and he soberly studied his drink. Vause looked like a kid caught with his hand in the cookie jar. Juarez didn't move, and Dan could see he was on the edge of anger.

Pace Odum did not change expression, except that the smile slowly faded. Suddenly Dan felt fear. It coiled upward as he looked into the pale and inscrutable eyes. He could read nothing of what went on behind them, realized that this deadly striping might do any unpredictable thing.

Pace slowly pushed his shot glass back with the tips of his slim fingers. He straightened, each move deliberate.

Juarez stirred, smacked his hand on the wood, the sound startling. "This fool—" Pace's swift gesture checked the half breed. "He tells us what to do," Pace finished softly. His hand moved to his pocket, not his gun. He fished out a gold coin and dropped it in the bowl. "He's right. Ante up. Be honest men for once in your lives."

He looked at his companions. They stood surprised a moment and then each of them pulled out coins and dropped them in the bowl. Jack Bruhn stirred and arose, came heavily to the bar and made his contribution. Dan picked up the bowl to put the money in the cash drawer. Pace shook his head.

"Leave it there, friend, in plain sight... so no one will forget." He smiled guilelessly and his voice grew soft. "I promise you no one will take anything out of it."

Dan believed him. He hastily poured another shot and downed it as Pace's lips widened in a smile. "I scare you, don't I?" he asked, pleasure in his silken voice.

Metcalfe Article States Belief in Newspaper Ads

The October issue of The Professional Photographer carries an article which tells of practices of J. R. Metcalfe, Harrisburg photographer.

The article by Kenneth S. Johnson titled "Spending Money to Make More—Advertising Practices of Successful Studios," says in part: "James R. Metcalfe, M. Photog., another ardent believer in newspapers, allocates two-thirds of his budget to them. He puts the case for advertising quite succinctly: "I think the big mistake made by many photographers, particularly in small towns such as mine (Harrisburg, Ill.) is that they take the attitude they don't need advertising because everybody knows them anyway." "Although he admits to feeling a bit the same way himself, Mr. Metcalfe says that he always 'plays it safe by making a point of running newspaper ads week in and week out all year 'round.'"

The article points out Mr. Metcalfe is a strong believer in consistency in advertising, that the ads must attract circulation, must try to sell one brief idea and no more, and must be circulated widely.

Masilla, N. M., claims the title of world's pecan capital.

Dedicated Man Makes Signs for Highways

MIAMI, Fla.—(UP)—Did you ever wonder who puts up those signs on the nation's highways such as "Jesus saves," or "Jesus Christ is coming, be ready?" J. N. Golding, a 63-year-old retired banana dealer of Miami, says, "The Lord called me to take up" this unusual hobby. He estimates he has painted more than 10,000 signs and nailed them on trees along highways from New York to California and from Miami to Chicago.

"The signs touch people who never stick their heads in a church and tell them their only hope and the world's only hope is to do God's will," he said.

Golding refuses to accept any money for his signs, although many churches and individuals have offered to reward him. "I owe it to the Lord," he explained.

Golding takes a trip each summer to keep the signs in repair and to put up new ones. He has been doing this for 15 years—since "I rededicated my life to the Lord and he healed me."

Bull Dogs Lose to Carmi, 68-57

Locals' Play in Cage Opener Delights Fans In Spite of Team's Loss

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs were beaten 68-57 Saturday night by a tall, experienced basketball team at Carmi but the approximately 100 local fans who witnessed the contests voiced their approval of the way the 1956-57 Bull Dogs of Harrisburg played the game.

Coach John Dotson had the boys forever moving and moving fast and they displayed a brand of ball that delighted the local viewers. The Bull Dogs made mistakes, but they kept boring in at all times and showed that they could develop into a winner.

Several times Carmi forged into a lead that was getting to look comfortable but the Bull Dogs would close the gap. Only in the second quarter did the Carmi outfit show superiority over the locals and in that frame they outscored Harrisburg, 21 to 12.

The Carmi quintet was practically the same as the one that eliminated unbeaten Shawneetown from the sectional tournament in Harrisburg last spring. Big gun missing was Ronnie Winters, but McCombs, Bell, Hankins and Myer of the boys that turned the trick were back.

Coach Dotson, who believes in a sharp appearance for his boys both on and off the court, started Bill Henshaw and Jim Cummins at forwards, Wayne Stone at center, and Ben Fulkerson and Ray Hassett at guards.

The two teams played on even terms the first quarter, with Carmi getting a basket as the horn sounded to give the White county crew a 16-14 margin at the end of the period. Mistakes of the locals and some exceptional shooting from the side by the Carmi players gave the opposition a 37-

26 margin at halftime, however.

The 11 point lead at halftime was what Carmi had at the end of the game, as Carmi outscored Harrisburg 15-14 in the third quarter and Harrisburg outscored 17-16 in the final period.

Henshaw Scores 15 Points
The locals looked in fine physical condition as they forced the Carmi crew during the last half and forced the bigger and more experienced boys into mistakes. However, the lead built up in the second period was not surmountable.

Bill Henshaw, who played exceptional ball for the locals, for high scorer for Harrisburg with 15 points, followed by 11 for both Stone and Fulkerson. Mike McCombs, with 18, was high for Carmi.

The box score reveals Carmi made but one more field goal than Harrisburg, the remaining margin of points coming at the free throw line.

The Bull Pups lost the preliminary contest 52-27. Carmi led 10-6 at the quarter and increased its leads to 28-10 at halftime and 43-16 at the end of the third period.

Next Bull Dog game will be at home, the locals entertaining Eldorado here Saturday night.

Hawks Edge Lakers, 95-94

By United Press
Bob Pettit, the scoring champion of the National Basketball Association last year, keeps coming up with the shots this year which enable the St. Louis Hawks to remain atop the Western Division.

The six-foot, 10-inch former Louisiana State University star sank a lay-up with four seconds left to play Sunday night to give the Hawks a 95-94 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers. Ed Macauley led the scorers with 26 points while Laker Dick Garmaker had 24.

George Yardley's 30-point performance led the Fort Wayne Pistons to a 112-88 triumph over the Philadelphia Warriors, the victory giving Fort Wayne second place in the Western Division. Neil Johnston netted 22 points for the Warriors.

The Rochester Royals rallied in the closing minutes to beat the New York Knickerbockers, 95-93. Dick Ricketts led the Royals with 21 points but Ray Felix of the Knicks was individual high scorer with 26.

Illinois Back Charges Official's Mistake Crowning Blow in 14-13 Loss

CHAMPAIGN — "An official's mistake" was the "crowning blow" against the Illinois in their 14-13 loss to Northwestern, Illinois halfback Dale Smith said Sunday.

Smith said the decision involved a stolen ball which nobody could find during a third period scoring drive by the Wildcats.

The disputed decision, which ruled the ball was stolen after the play ended, allowed Northwestern to keep possession on its own 48. Had the officials ruled the other way, Illinois would have had possession.

session on the Wildcat's 44. "Not only did the official take the ball from me," Smith said, "but he gave Northwestern yardage made while I was holding the ball."

The controversial play began, the 26-year-old Navy veteran said, when Wildcat sophomore halfback Wilmer Fowler carried the ball over Smith, playing defensive center.

Smith claimed he grabbed the ball out of Fowler's hands and then fell to the ground with it while Fowler continued downfield. Fowler was followed for 4 more yards by both officials and players, who apparently did not realize the "steal," Smith said.

"The ball was in my hands when the whistle blew," Smith said. "The official was downfield on the play and had his back to me. When he came back, though, he ruled I stole the ball after he blew the whistle."

Officials didn't know where the ball was after Fowler was tackled. When one official reached to take the ball from Fowler's arms and place it down for the next play, he found the ball was missing from Fowler's grasp.

Courtney Spurts from Behind to Win 800 as U. S. Increases Olympics Lead

MELBOURNE — Tall Tom Courtney of Livingston, N. J., a Yank who simply wouldn't be beaten, spurred from behind and won the Olympic 800-meter run in record time today as the U. S. widened its lead over Russia in the unofficial team race with three more gold medals in two sports.

The Rev. Bob Richards of Laverne, Calif., retained his pole vault crown with an Olympic record leap of 14 feet, 11 1/2 inches and weight-lifter Tommy Kono of Sacramento, Calif., won the light heavyweight title with two world records. However, one other American champion was dethroned.

Cy Young of Modesto, Calif., lost his javelin title to husky Egil Danielsen of Norway who set a new world record of 281 feet, 2 1/4 inches — nearly 40 feet past Young's Olympic record and nearly seven feet past the world's previous best. Young was buried under an avalanche of others who broke his old record and failed to qualify for the final round.

10 Medals for Yanks
The three gold medals in the afternoon boosted the U. S. total to 10—seven in track—and put the Yanks out in front by a wide margin in the team race with a total of 157 points to Russia's 97.

Courtney's tremendous victory in the 800, however, was the high point of the day for the 110,000 wildly cheering fans in the huge arena. The former Fordham flash had the race won, then almost lost it to a complete outsider, Derek Johnson of Great Britain, then came on again with a last moment spurt to win by a stride in 1:47.7.

Johnson was second, Audun Boyesen of Norway was third, Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh fourth, Michael Farrell of Great Britain fifth and Lon Spurrier of Delano, Calif., was sixth. Courtney's time bit a good-sized chunk off the Olympic record of 1:49.2 set by Mal Whitfield of the U. S. in 1948 and tied by Mal in '52.

Bears Come From Behind, Tie Giants, 17-17

By United Press

Harlon Hill, ignored by the All-America selectors when he played for little Florence (Ala.) State Teachers College, made two spectacular touchdown catches Sunday that may effect the outcome of both National Football League division races.

The Bears, highest-scoring NFL team, trailed the New York Giants by 17-3 in the closing minutes when Hill again showed the receiving skill that has led veteran pro football men to compare him with the great Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers. Hill scored on a 79-yard play with less than seven minutes to go and on a 56-yarder in the last 65 seconds to give the Bears a 17-17 tie.

Hill's feats stunned an inspired New York team, thrilled 55,191 Yankee Stadium spectators and enabled the Bears to hold their half-game lead over the runnerup Detroit Lions in the Western Division. His catches cut New York's Eastern Division lead over the second-place Chicago Cardinals to one-half game because the Cards whipped the Pittsburgh Steelers, 38-27.

The Washington Redskins, who invade New York Sunday, moved to within a game of the Giants by rallying to edge the Cleveland Browns, 20-17.

The Baltimore Colts pulled the biggest scoring spree in their history to crush the Los Angeles Rams, 56-21; and the San Francisco Forty-Niners rallied to tie the Philadelphia Eagles, 10-10, on Gordie Soltau's last period field goal in the other games.
